Journal of Extension Education - History

- The Journal of Extension Education [7] is an academic journal that is being published as a quarterly since 1990.
- It accepts articles representing original work, analytical papers and papers based on review of extensive literature in the field of Extension Education.
- The journal is published in both print and online versions (Print ISSN: 0971-3123 ; Online ISSN: 2456-1282).

Focus and Scope

The Journal of Extension Education (JEE) is a peer-reviewed quarterly journal in the field of extension education published by the Extension Education Society (EES) from 1990.

It accepts articles representing original work, analytical papers and papers grounded in theory in the field of Extension Education, with reference to agriculture and rural development.

Articles should relate to emerging issues, cite appropriate literature, and draw out implications for extension education.

The journal is published in both print and online versions.

Peer Review Process

Manuscripts submitted to JEE will be assessed for publication based on its originality of its contribution to the field of extension education, soundness of its theory and methodology, coherence of analysis and the paper's ability to effectively communicate to its readers.

As of now, JEE uses Single-blinded review, where names of the reviewers are hidden from the author, but reviewers know the identity of the author(s).

After initial assessment by the Chief Editor, the submitted manuscript will move to the stage of rigorous peer review, where researchers/academics in the relevant field will go through the manuscript and advise the Chief Editor on its suitability to publish in JEE and consequent revision by the author(s), if required. Every article published in JEE has been through peer review for its quality and relevance assessed by independent peers.

Open Access Policy

JEE provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge.

Archiving

This journal utilizes the LOCKSS system to create a distributed archiving system among participating libraries and permits those libraries to create permanent archives of the journal for purposes of preservation and restoration. More... [8]
